Social Studies

This week, we will continue our study of economics. Students will finish preparations on their group's good or service for the economic fair that will take place this. We'll also take the economics district assessment.

In writing we will be reviewing words with the long u sound such as blue, threw, fuse, and value. We will also focus on editing our writing to check for capital letters, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.

Reading

This week, we will continue our metacognition unit on making connections. We will practice making connections to improve our comprehension of a story. We will continue reading The Lemonade War to go along with our Social Studies unit about economics.
