Science

This week we will continue our investigation on physical/chemical changes as well as exploring mixtures. We will also end the week with a matter assessment.

In writing we will be reviewing words with the long a sound (a_e, ai, ay, and sometimes ea). Ending punctuation will be reviewed as well as adding periods after initials. We will also continue adding details to our stories.

Reading

We will continue our metacognitive strategy of visualizing but with poetry this week. We will also continue our novel study of Charlotte's Web. This will be leading the way into literature circles/book clubs.
