

Greetings everyone!

Welcome to AP World History for the 2018-19 school year! My name is Carol Turman, and I look forward to a wonderful learning year with you and our student. As I begin my 21st year of teaching, I still find that excitement fills the air with every new school year.

I don't want to go into a lot of specifics yet and overwhelm you or our new AP World students, for now just note that this course is very likely to be one of the most rewarding but very challenging academic endeavours our students will encounter. It was so amazing to observe the growth personally and academically of my students last year, and I look forward to that experience again for 2018-19.

When you need to visit or talk, my room is located in K-106 on the south end of Boyd, and my email is cturman@mckinneyisd.net. I also recommend you follow your student in Canvas, as a lot of assignments and class information are posted this way.

Welcome to AP World History!

Best regards,

Carol Turman
